Speaking of the change in the Pastorate by the last Conference on the Mt. Hope Church, South, The Dover News says: "It is understood that Rev. George E. Rapp will devote some of his time to completion of the Church here, begun under his Pastorate. He was successful in securing a donation of $75 for the Church building from Conference, and has assurance of some help from the Board of Church Extension. It was a sad blow to the people of Dover to lose Mr. Rapp, but the time for his was universally believed and held the confidence of the entire community, both in the Church and out of it. Let us hope his successor will be equally energetic and popular."

A number of intimate friends of the bride party were present.

The ushers, Messrs. Thomas Latley and Thomas D. Slattery, acted as attendants.

The bride was most becomingly attired in a suit of brown cloth, she is one of Maysville's handsomest and most estimable ladies, while the groom, a most worthy gentleman, is equally popular among his acquaintances.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McDowell left on the C. and O. Flyer for a trip to Columbus, O.

GOEBEL'S DECEPTION.

Below is an extract from a letter of Mr. C. M. Browning to his parents in this city:

Roxboro, Cal., August 28, 1899.

Dear Mother and Father: I have just thought me somewhat disappointed in California, but not so. I don't think it more so than I thought it would be. I don't think it more so than I thought it would be. I don't think it more so than I thought it would be.

He Poses As the Negro's Friend For the Negro's Vote.

THE SEPARATE COACH LAW.

Linton Herald.

Desperate attempts are being made by certain advocates of Mr. Goebel to obtain the votes of Negroes, and an excuse for this is being made by the Separate Coach Law.

The Separate Coach Law was passed, and did not vote for it.

It was added that at heart he was against this legislation, and if elected Governor he would be in a position to let his views be known and would do so.

To him was proposed the direct question, and in his speech at Cloverport, Breckinridge county, he stated the question and gave answer.

The report we publish is from The Owensboro Messenger; it is not a sensational report, and may not be strictly accurate, but we assume it was intended to be a fair report and we accept it as such.

Early in his speech he read a communication, which he said was his own, during his speech at Henderson.

He said that he had no intention of notice it there, being crowded for time, to catch the train for Cloverport, but would do so.

Two questions were asked him: "First, are you in favor of the Separate Coach Law?" His answer to that was: "I am for it."

"Second, if you were a member of the Legislature, would you vote to repeal the Separate Coach Law?" His answer to that was: "No."

"After answering those questions he said he would, however, favor an amendment to the law, if the present statute does not specifically demand it, requiring the railroads to give the colored people equal accommodations with the white people.

He said that it was an injustice to the colored race to box them up in one end of a smoking car, requiring respectable colored women to share such quarters with rough men, who would often drank in the cramped compartment.

But he believed the present law, if properly enforced, would stop all complaints from the colored people, who he understood, did not complain that they were separated from the white people on trains, but because of inferior accommodations furnished them.

He called attention to the fact that the Republican party had been in power in Kentucky for nearly four years, and the Republican Attorney General nor any Republican Congressman's Attorney had ever offered to take any steps in the Courts to secure to the colored people their rights under the law, and he pledged, if elected Governor, to see that the statute was properly enforced, to end that equal accommodations were furnished colored and white passengers.

He said that he would see that the law was properly enforced, and he would see that the law was properly enforced, and he would see that the law was properly enforced.

While he was just Mr. Goebel to publish his statement, it is also fair to point out the evident attempt to deceive. This statement is in direct reply from everyone at all acquainted with the law. It was a reckless statement for Mr. Goebel must have known that it exposed him to immediate and humiliating confession of evasion of false insinuation, and a futile attempt to demagogue. And the very next night in the very same issue of Cloverport, Mr. Lawrence Tamm, counsel for Attorney General, read this report, and we republish his, comment upon it. Mr. Tamm said:

"This statement is neither candid nor fair, but it is made with a view to the election of Mr. Goebel to know that the law is as it exists today, which provides for separate coaches or compartments for each of the races, provides that railroads shall give to the colored people equal accommodations with white people.

That there may be no mistake in your minds as to whether it does or not, I will read you sections 2, 3 and 4 of said bill, being sections 786, 787 and 788 of Kentucky statutes covering this point. They read as follows:

"Section 2.—That the Railroad Companies, persons or persons shall make no distinction or discrimination in the quality, convenience or accommodations in the cars or coaches or parlor cars for white and colored passengers."

"Section 3.—That any Railroad Company or Company, general passenger or otherwise, who fails to comply with the provisions of section 1 and 2 of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than $50 nor more than $1,000 for each offense."

"Section 4.—That all Circuit Courts in which railroads are operated in this state shall make complete jurisdiction over such offenses."

vegetables are cheap. Fish are abundant, unsurpassed in quality and low in price. Meats of whatever kind are high; eggs likewise, but as the reader please to ask; chickens, for the framework for such cream-candies and legs to make, 50 to 75 cents; coal to cook at, $6.50 per ton. By the way, the man who can invent a chicken that will ripen into market size a chicken a million times better than the real thing, and they are valued accordingly. To steal a quail may be pardoned, if the thief be popular; to steal a chicken is speedy death, transportation or life-long imprisonment.

Coming to the lawless like ice and doors shut rule here. The average man cannot buy for family use, and a first-class hotel, even in the larger cities, which supplies it to guests. Being a thief in prison I bought a nickel's worth of ice and started for my room. The paper wrapper was innocent of moisture at the fourth floor.

As to doctors and their methods—what I get sick here I shall send for the undertaker, give him all I have to bury me, and die. Should I get the doctor, first he'll take me to a hospital, and for years he'll starve; if I die I will be indebted to charity for a grave. Five dollars for a day visit, ten dollars for night, was a valued experience to me.
